Our Mission

The City of Rialto's Community Compliance Division receives thousands of calls for service each year on property maintenance issues ranging from aesthetics to health and safety violations. The goal of Community Compliance is to gain compliance through education and communication about property violations.

Community Compliance addresses property maintenance concerns that can affect property values, safety, and the overall appearance of the neighborhood. These issues can be on residential or commercial properties. Community Compliance Volunteers are valuable team members who help contribute to the Division goals.
